

READING NEWSLETTER

Ripley Infant School

Take a look below to see what books each class have read recently...

Owls

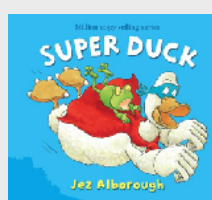

Robins

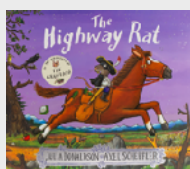

Skylarks

Ravens

Woodpeckers

Starlings

Book Week Special Edition!

This newsletter includes all of the fun activities we held during Book Week and some recent class reads this term. We hope you enjoy looking at all the photos from Book Week.

Children really enjoyed looking at Flotsam by David Wiesner, especially because it is a wordless book. This allowed children to use their imagination and guess what might happen and spot different things in each picture.

Our newsletter next term will feature recommended reads, local library, picture quiz and recent book releases.

Miss Boddy

Year 2 Teacher and English Lead

Sponsored Read

Thank you to EVERYBODY who took part in our sponsored read during book week. We managed to raise a total of £309.50. A massive thank you to everybody who donated and helped us raise this amount. We will be purchasing some new titles for our school library including some of the Big People, Little Dream collection. Teachers will be asking their class what books they would like to see in their library and some of these will be purchased as well.

Competition Winners

Mrs Doleman found it really hard to judge for the best word / costume as everybody came in fantastic outfits! The following children were chosen for best word / costume:

Owls - George: athletic

Robins - Bryar-Rose: benevolent

Skylarks - Rosie: sparkly

Ravens - Will: exploring

Woodpeckers - Scarlett: dictionary

Starlings - Freddy H: dishonest

Children chose a book they would like to take home and they received a small bag of sweets.

Book Token

Did you manage to pick up any of the following books with your book token?

